The large Dudley cold storage building has been veneered this week and work commenced on the new building.

Ascension day services were held yesterday at the Lutheran, Episcopal, Catholic and St. Johns Evangelical churches.

Fred Tick has been granted a re-issue of his pension, and a pension has been issued to the minor children of J. A. Johns.

The dog ordinance goes into effect June 1st. If you do not want your dog killed get a license from City Clerk Edwards at once.

The high school grounds present a fine appearance. Janitor Sutherland keeps everything in good shape about the premises.

Members of Adelpia Hive, L. O. T. M., are requested to meet in their hall at 1 p. m. May 31st, to assist in Memorial day exercises.

Notice the change in the time card of the Ann Arbor road. The train north in the morning now leaves at 10:59, and the evening train at 7:24.

Prof. E. T. Austin has been assigned by Supt. of Public Instruction Hammond to assist at the Iowa county teachers' institute, to be held in August.

A. Deckert, the enterprising merchant tailor, is improving daily from the operation recently performed on him and will soon be about again.

Rev. E. E. Conley, of Detroit, superintendent of the Baptist State Missionary work, will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist church, next Sunday.

County Clerk Cooper issued only one marriage license last week. The fortunate parties were John Snyder, Rush, 31, and Maud Loomis, Seville, 20.

On Sunday next Rev. John Sweet will preach on "The Hem of His Garment" in the morning, and on "The Relation of Faith to Reason" in the evening.

The graduating class of the high school has placed an order with THE TIMES for 900 commencement programs, which will be the finest ever sent out in the city.

The business places of the city should all be closed on Memorial Day during the afternoon, and the attendance at the exercises at Oakhill cemetery should be general.

The West Owosso band makes an excellent showing for the short time it has been organized. The open air concerts are much enjoyed by the citizens of the west side.

A. W. Holmes is kept busy putting down tar walks all over the city, which are a great improvement over plank walks. Mr. H. seems to make a success of all his walks.

Owosso merchants complain of lack of trade during the cold weather for the past few days. The appearance of anything like summer weather brings a revival of trade.

The Owosso Macabees went to Perry last evening and conferred the degrees on several candidates for their Perry brothers. The Owosso team is well up in their work and is always in demand.

Quackenbush Post G. A. R., the W. R. C., S. of V. and Co. G. will attend services at Christ Episcopal church on Sunday morning. The address will be appropriate to Memorial Day.

Bicycle riders must be more careful about fast riding over cross walks or we shall have some bad accidents to record. Several narrow escapes from serious accidents have been reported lately.

The Bancroft Driving Club, of Bancroft, will hold a three days race meeting, June 9, 10, 11, '97. The purses offered are liberal, and an unusually large list of entries undoubtedly will be secured.

When work is commenced on the sewers on Water, Park and Williams streets employment will be furnished for everyone in the city who wants to work. The city authorities cannot begin the work too soon.

On Sunday evening, June 13th, at the Congregational church, Rev. J. C. Cromer will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the high school. The other churches of the city will join in the services.

William F. Goetze and Miss Anna Doman were married by Rev. John Sweet on Tuesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, 128 east Comstock St. Several guests from out of town witnessed the ceremony.

The six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fillmore, east Main street, met with a serious accident, Tuesday evening. While playing with another child she fell on the walk in such a manner as to break her left arm above the elbow.

At the annual session of the grand lodge Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., held last week in Belding, the local lodge was honored by the election of one of its members, Mrs. Grace Cole, as grand inner watch. The reports all showed the orders to be flourishing.

The remains of the late Mrs. Cassius Grow, who formerly resided on State street, were taken to Glenwood, Wis., Wednesday morning for burial, near her old home. The remains were accompanied by Mr. Grow and his son, Edwin, who will reside at Glenwood in the future.

Street Commissioner Cole has the sincere thanks of every Owosso wheelman because of the generous use of the road scrapers during the past few days. May the good work continue so that lovers of the bike may not be compelled to break the ordinance by riding on the sidewalk.

"The Aeolian Male Quartet" is the name adopted by an organization of Owosso sweet singers. The quartet is made up as follows: G. T. Reynolds, first tenor; S. R. Hoyt, second tenor; E. H. Jacobs, first bass; W. E. Sullivan, second bass. These young men possess fine voices and their services will no doubt be in great demand.

F. T. Harris, of the Owosso Land, Lumber and Fuel Co., returned Saturday from a business trip through the east. He reports prospects good for an immense business in the territory through which he traveled, just as soon as the tariff bill is passed by the senate. Mr. Harris left Tuesday evening for Chicago and from there will again go east.

Eld. B. N. Allen, of North Fairfield, O., will preach morning and evening at Church of Christ, corner of Oliver and Hickory Sts., next Sunday. He was for five years the successful evangelist of the state missionary society of the Disciples. Their cause in this city owes much to him for its start. He will be the guest of Eld. L. W. Spayd for a few days. On next Sunday evening he will deliver from his new chart a lecture on the "Two Covenants." His friends will all be glad of this opportunity to see and hear him again. All are cordially invited.

The Modern Woodmen of America will make Memorial Day mark an epoch in the history of their Owosso council by initiating 50 members into the mysteries and furnishing them with insurance which they claim is the cheapest and with a death rate the lowest of any organization of its age. The staff of North Lansing council will join with the Owosso council, which now consists of 70 members, in the Memorial day parade and exemplify the work for the Owosso council in the evening. W. W. Thomas, deputy Head Consul, of Grand Rapids, expects to work the membership up to 100, making a total membership of 170, before leaving the city. John Fleming is Venerable Consul, and T. Kerwin, clerk of the Owosso society, and they are keeping it up to the front rank.
